Man And 6 Newsboys Killed In Collision Of Engine And Truck

Northwestern Train, Hits Truck
While Trying To Make

DEBRIS STREW 600 YARDS

Two Mangled Bodies Found
Twisted In Mass Of Broken
Steel Of Pilot

By Associated Press

Milwaukee—A man and six newsboys were killed and another boy injured, perhaps fatally, when a speeding Northwestern train crashed into a Journal Co. truck at St. Francis, five miles south of Milwaukee at 10:10 Friday night.

Arnold Voight, 26 years old, 1708 State, supervisor for the Journal and driver of the truck, Michael Malski, 14; Bailey Clements, 12; Vilas Koehler, 18; Lester Holling, 18; two unidentified boys, between 12 and 15 years of age.

The injured boy is Gilbert Koehler, brother of Vilas, aged 14. St. Francis, skull fractured, internal injuries, taken to Milwaukee hospital. Koehler is said to be conscious early Saturday morning long enough to give police additional names of boys who, he said were on the truck.

Two brothers named Loganover, about 15 and 16 years old respectively, are believed to be the two boys not yet identified.

Bodies of victims and debris from the demolished truck were strewn along the track for approximately 600 yards.

WATCHMAN DESERTS POST
Residents of St. Francis said a watchman had remained on duty at the crossing until 10 o'clock, but went home when the train failed to come through on time. It developed that the train, which left Chicago at 8 P.M., and was due in Milwaukee at 10:15 P.M., was 10 minutes late.

All the newsboys had attended a party in Cudahy and were being returned to their homes in St. Francis by Voight. First reports were that the auto became stalled on the tracks, but later it was said that the cause of the crash was not known.

Early on Saturday, distracted relatives of some of the victims began telephoning the police for explanation of why the boys did not return home. They were told of the accident and asked to visit the morgue. By this means police hoped that all the bodies would be identified within the next few hours.

The catastrophe occurred at St. Francis-ave and First-st, just outside the southern limits of Milwaukee.

Residents said they heard the engine's whistle and immediately thereafter a resounding crash. Pieces of the truck were hurled scores of yards and two mangled bodies, twisted in the mass of broken steel and wood, were taken from the engine pilot when the train came to a stop 600 yards north of the crossing.

There was no light at the crossing where the tragedy occurred, according to witnesses, but there was a light at another crossing 100 feet to the west.

AMBULANCES MEET TRAIN
Members of the train crew assisted by passengers picked up the dead and dying and placed them on board the train, which then rushed to the station in Milwaukee, where ambulances met the train.

Two of the boys died on the train, it is said, and a third succumbed on the operating table at emergency hospital. The seventh victim expired at Milwaukee hospital at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, leaving Koehler as the only survivor of the catastrophe. Koehler, who suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries, was reported in a precarious condition with his death expected momentarily.

Pathetic evidence of the joy immediately preceding death was disclosed in the clothing of the dead, when the bodies were removed to the morgue. Crushed apples, oranges and candies were found in the pockets of the victims.

Voight is survived by a widow and a small baby. Mrs. Voight had not heard of the tragedy when a reporter arrived at her home, bearing first news of the crash that cost the life of the husband and father. Hysterical with grief, she hurried to the coroner's office to identify her husband.

SUPERIOR JEWELER FACES TRIAL ON ARSON CHARGES

By Associated Press
Superior—H. E. Juberger, local jeweler, will be given a hearing in municipal court at 2 P.M. Monday on a charge of arson in the night time. Juberger demanded an examination when arraigned before Judge F. S. Parker Friday on a warrant sworn to by C. J. Good, state fire marshal. The defendant is out on $500 bail.

CONDUCTOR SLAIN, TWO OTHERS HURT BY SHOTS

Los Angeles—A conductor was killed and a brakeman and passenger wounded Saturday on Union Pacific train Number 25 westbound, when W. P. Barnett, of Caldwell, Idaho, began shooting in the forward end of the day coach as the train was pulling out of Burstor, east of here, according to advices to the railroad company.

MUSCLE SHOAL BIDS OF AUTO MOGUL TOO LOW

Military Affairs Committee Blocks Passage Of Bill For Acceptance

OTHER PLANS ARE FAVERED

McKenzie Measure Gives Motor Magnate Leophole To Quit Fertilizer Plant

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The McKenzie bill authorizing acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for the government's wartime project at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, is emphatically opposed in a minority report submitted Saturday by members of the house military committee.

Comparing the Ford offer with that of the Southern Power Co. but without specifically endorsing any of the four proposals which have been made for operation of the Muscle Shoals plants, the report declares that acceptance of the Detroit manufacturers' would amount to a gift of enormous property and industrial advantage to a private citizen from the resources of the United States. The power companies' proposal as compared with the Ford bid, it says, offers "savings to the government amounting to $24,218,000 for 50 years and $75,600,000 for 100 years."

Representative Hull, however, who consistently has opposed the Ford offer, presented the minority report.

MAJORITY IS CRITICIZED

The report criticizes the majority for attempting "to justify the violation by the Ford offer of every safeguard and principle of the Federal water power act" and declares the McKenzie bill gives Mr. Ford a "loop hole" to "quit" the manufacture of fertilizer if it should not prove profitable.

Furthermore it contends "no one is in a position to know from any statement of Mr. Ford or any accredited representative whether he would accept the proportion on the terms offered him in the pending bill asserting that under the bill as now proposed by the majority Mr. Ford's company "would not be regulated as to rates, service, or issuance of securities" by the federal government or the Alabama public service commission."

The gift of property is staggering," the report declares, "but that is not all or nearly all. No individual and no corporation in the United States has the unregulated control of 900,000 horse power, or anything remotely approaching that figure."

Any of the other proposals submitted is better than the Ford offer, the minority holds, adding that the poverty of financial return to the government under his offer compared with the benefits "he demands has led his supporters and apologists to strange arithmetical gymnastics."

The issue on which Mr. McAdoo was deployed was an international question and one in which the department of state through Republican and Democratic administration has taken the same position, namely that certain provisions of the Mexican constitution were confiscatory of American property.

REED RECALLED DODNEY

Similarly the attack on McAdoo has been traced, according to his supporters, to the anti-Wilson animus of Senator Reed, of Missouri, who is himself a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. It was Senator Reed who insisted on recalling Mr. Doheny to the stand, which developed the fact that Mr. Doheny had employed Mr. McAdoo as counsel in Mexican matters.

The issue on which Mr. McAdoo was deployed was an international question and one in which the department of state through Republican and Democratic administration has taken the same position, namely that certain provisions of the Mexican constitution were confiscatory of American property.

But the part that Mr. McAdoo played in getting a fee for a legitimate piece of advice is not really material. Mr. McAdoo violated neither the federal statutes nor the ethics of his profession nor the governmental code. To accept large fees from corporations, however, has always been known in Democratic politics as an obstacle to the candidacy of such a person, the theory being that being enveloped in the influence of big corporations stifles the passion of an individual for the people as a whole whose theoretical enemy in days gone by the corporations were supposed to be.

MAY HILL MCADOO'S CHANCE

Except for the fact that John W. Davis of West Virginia, for instance, capable lawyer and an international figure, at one time was an attorney for J. P. Morgan and Company, he would today be in the lead for the Democratic nomination. What Mr. Davis did as any attorney can disqualify him, so may Mr. McAdoo's legal affiliations work to his disadvantage.

On the other hand, one thing is certain. Senator James Reed has killed his own chances of nomination. More than one-third of the votes of the next convention will be in the hands of the McAdoo followers. If their chief is to be defeated by Jim Reed of Missouri, they will see to it that he does not win either.

SELLS MORTGAGED CAR; GETS 30 DAYS

Thirty days in the county workhouse was the sentence imposed by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court upon Van Boekel of Little Chute, following his plea of guilty to the charge of moving mortgaged property.

Since he had already waited a month in the county jail, his term of curtailed liberty is a good deal longer.

Van Boekel was arrested after he had been brought back from Canada where Arnold Kampen, Little Chute garage dealer had traced him. He had previously bought a Ford car from another dealer and then traded it for a Chevrolet automobile, although the Ford car was mortgaged. Kampen went to Canada and found his car and the man.

The prisoner is a native of Holland and has been in this country only seven months, but has already adapted himself to the customs of this country in more ways than one. He speaks the English language quite fluently, considering his recent advent.

SEPARATISTS YIELD TO LOYALISTS IN MAYENCE

Mayence, Germany—The Separatists, Saturday morning vacated the public building in Mayence which they have been holding for some time. The evacuation apparently was made in agreement with the functionaries of the old regime, who entered from one side as the Separatists left from the other.

John Conway, who was instrumental in having the trial pass through Appleton, is of the opinion that something should be done to keep it here. Asked if he personally would put up a fight at the Minneapolis meeting next week, he said, "No, I shall not. I fought for this trial for Appleton for eight or nine years and I got so little support here that I gave it up. I would like to see the trial kept here, and I believe by all means it should be, but I can't do anything without the help of others. I turned this matter over to the chamber of commerce thinking they best could handle it."

FORUM SPEAKER LEADING CONTEST FOR BETTER CITIES

Aubrey Williams, Who Talks Sunday, Knows Community Problems

A great undertaking for the good of Wisconsin is being directed by Aubrey Williams of Madison, the man who will address the Peoples Forum at 7:30 Sunday evening at Lawrence Memorial Chapel on the subject, "What Makes or Breaks a City?"

Mr. Williams is executive secretary of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work and in that capacity is directing the better cities contest which will be launched by that organization on May 1, 1924.

This contest is for cities of the second, third and fourth classes and will be in progress for one year to May 1, 1925. Prizes are $1,000 and $500.

The object is to stimulate pride in those aspects of civic life affecting child welfare, family life and community well-being. It also aims to promote activities among municipalities of Wisconsin in improving conditions of morale, health, recreation and various other projects relating to the human side of individual and community life.

Appleton has been asked to enter the contest. It is expected that Mr. Williams will explain it in part when he comes here. He has a wide grasp of civic needs and plans for community betterment and his address is expected to be of considerable value to local people.

LAST OF ROTARY GROUPS WILL MEET

Five committees of the Tenth district Rotary conference staff will confer with the executive committee at a dinner at 6:15 Monday evening at Hotel Northern.

This is the last of a series of conferences with committees in groups to make arrangements for the convention, which will be held in Appleton April 29 and 30. Each committee reports on its work to date and discusses its plans with the executive group, of which Lee C. Rasey is chairman.

Committees coming to this meeting

MACKVILLE RABBITS
CLIMB DRIFTS TO FEED
ON BOUGHS OF TREES

As the giraffe various stages of evolution is said to have acquired his long neck by reaching for the leaves on tall trees, thus it is feared that rabbits will soon be numbered among flying fish, flying squirrels and other birds. The reason for the hypothesis? A farmer near Mackville is snowed in to such an extent that the drifts reach to the tops of the highest limbs of his fruit trees, and rabbits are feeding on the bark of the upper branches instead of the trunk below. What if there should be a sudden thaw and leave a rabbit stranded at the peak?

Plan for Convention

Members of the Outagamie Bar Association and their wives will meet at the Conway hotel at 6:15 Monday night to discuss plans for the coming state bar convention. The convention meets in Appleton some time in June.

FILE REPORT ON INCOME EARLY TO AVOID LATE RUSH

Taxpayers Urged To Call At Courthouse For Blanks If They Don't Receive Them

Persons who fail to receive a state income tax blank before Monday should apply for one at the office of Leo Toonen, assessor of incomes, in the courthouse, provided they have a taxable income.

All persons who filed an income return last year were mailed blanks this week. But if on account of a change in local address or through a clerical error, the blank is misdirected, the addressee should inquire for one. Failure to receive a blank does not exempt a person from filing a return.

To avoid penalty all persons receiving a blank should file a return, regardless of their deductions and exemptions. Returns must be filed before March 15, but an early return is requested by the assessor's office. Should difficulties arise, or should mistakes arise, adjustments can then be made in due time. To avoid the rush later on, Mr. Toonen advises making early returns.

DR. DENYES SPEAKS ON LIFE IN BORNEO

Dr. John R. Denyes of Lawrence College will give an illustrated lecture on the customs and mode of life of the people of Borneo and Sumatra among whom he worked for 25 years at the meeting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A.

BARRYMORE AS BARON IN "ETERNAL CITY"

Lionel Barrymore, conceded to be one of the finest actors alive today, has the greatest role of his career in "The Eternal City," a First National picture produced by George Fitzmaurice, which is coming Monday to the Elite theater for a 3 days engagement. It is a picturization of the famous story by Sir Hall Caine, and was filmed entirely in Italy.

Barrymore is cast as Baron Bonelli, a titled profligate, who has but two interests in life—money and pretty women. The first he acquired with such ease and readiness that it lost somewhat of its appeal to him. But there was one girl, noted for her beauty, who had repulsed him at every turn. This served merely to spur on his determination to conquer her; and he concocted a plot with the intention of trapping her.

Utilizing her talent as a sculptress as a subterfuge, the baron manipulated her "adoption" by a wealthy countess in Rome. Grief-stricken because she believed her lover France had been killed on the battlefield, the girl accepted the offer, without suspecting that the baron was supplying the money for her support. The baron's plans of conquest were interrupted in a sensational dramatic manner.

Barbara La Marr appears as the girl, others in the cast being Bert Lytell, Richard Bennett and Montagu Love.

EPIDEMIC OF MEASLES KEEPS CHILDREN OUT OF RURAL SCHOOLS

The county is being swept by an epidemic of measles, school reports turned in at the office of A. G. Meethan, county superintendent of schools, indicate. Attendance has been lagging at a number of schools on account of this disease, and as a result school efficiency has been decreased about 40 per cent. Last fall the center of contagion was in the northwestern part of the county, but now the areas has shifted to the eastern half.

Hundred Of Telephones Broken Down By Ice, Phone Company Head Says

Losses to telephone companies in Wisconsin from the sleet and snow storm which swept the entire state early this week will reach hundreds of thousands of dollars, according to reports received by W. A. McGovern, president of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. Several hundred telephone poles were put down by the storm, pulling with them miles of telephone wires, Mr. McGovern declared.

Monday, the first day of the storm, it was estimated that 400 poles were down along telephone lines. Early estimates placed the losses in excess of $500,000. Every available man is being employed in setting up new poles and repairing the wires, Mr. McGovern said.

"Cold spells during January caused between 5,000 and 6,000 breaks along distant lines and in rural sections," Mr. McGovern stated. "Ice on the wires in the storm this week averaged about an inch in thickness and this added weight

Farmers Want Barricades On Blocked Roads

For the safety of travelers on country roads, especially at night, farmers advocate placing bars or even lanterns at places where roads are blocked on account of snow drifts. Since the last snow storm travelers over rural highways are often forced to cut across fields, at these points barriers should be placed to warn travelers of the uselessness of going farther and preventing possible accidents, so the farmers feel. Traveling over snow-bound roads is exceedingly dangerous, especially at night, and those who are unused to the roads would do well not to venture out at night at all, it is said.

swayed by the winds, caused many poles to break. The total cost of repairs last month exceeded $100,000. The damage caused by the sleet storm this week probably will be five or six times more, considering that many of the lines are not now serviceable."

MAKE 183,000 LBS. OF CHEESE IN 1923

Total revenues of the South Greenfield Dairy Products Co., an organization of farmers which operates a cheese factory on the Medina road, was $44,546.46 in 1923, according to reports submitted at the annual meeting of the patrons Wednesday evening. Revenue from the sale of cheese amounted to $41,255.70 and sale of whey cream brought in $2,890.01 more. Twenty-four patrons delivered 1,183,573 pounds of milk to the factory during the year. This milk was equivalent to 69,498 pounds of butterfat and produced 182,218 pounds of cheese, almost all of which was sold. The average price paid to farmers for milk during the year was $1.85 per hundred pounds, the reports showed.

TIME IS NOT YET READY

We are entering the presidential campaign with a marked rerudescence of opinion, not only in the United States but throughout the world, in support of the League of Nations.

The new labor prime minister of Great Britain has expressed in strong language his desire that some basis be found for bringing the United States, Germany and Russia into the League.

Mr. MacDonald voices the sentiment of labor throughout Great Britain in this respect. Austin Chamberlain, although of the opposition, in a public address the other day urged that any concession be made to the United States in redrafting the covenant of the League in order to induce America to join.

Germany wants to go into the League, and it is of much significance that while alien-minded socialists in this country are insulting the memory of Mr. Wilson the socialists of Germany, and their official publications, are praising Mr. Wilson as "a man whose name will be celebrated as one of the greatest benefactors to the world in the future, when the names of many war heroes will be buried in the dust of oblivion."

The League is working out the economic salvation of both Austria and Hungary in a creditable manner. Everywhere its standing is improving, and its potential value as a peace agency is coming into wider recognition.

The four years of Mr. Wilson's retirement, marked by dignity and self-restraint notwithstanding chaotic conditions in Europe and futile efforts to improve them except through American assistance, had vindicated his peace policies.

brought about a vast amount of introspection in this country which has unquestionably reawakened public opinion in favor of his policies and of American membership in the League. This reawakening has been given a tremendous impetus by Mr. Wilson's death. The spontaneity with which the greatness of the war president was conceded throughout the country without regard to politics, the remarkable tributes which everywhere have been paid to his idealism, his commanding personality, his courageous and precent leadership, the deep national mourning which has been exhibited, have naturally turned the thoughts of the people toward those principles he advocated and those aims he sought to realize. Unquestionably this has been a powerful aid, which could probably have come about in no other way so forcefully, to the League movement in this country, which is far from dead.

Of late we have had a vigorous endorsement of the League by the American Federation of Labor. We think the progressive and liberal-thinking element of our population is rapidly coming to the conviction that Mr. Wilson was right in his purpose to bring about world peace and in the methods substantially as he proposed them. The Boe peace prize showed the existence of a tremendous interest in the subject. The petty and ludicrous attempt of the senate to "investigate" Mr. Boe has made it the laughing stock of the country, and has reacted greatly to the benefit of the peace-by-organization advocates.

Still we do not believe the time is ripe for American membership in the League. We must have a more convincing demonstration of its value and necessity, from the American standpoint, to bring the force of public opinion up to the point where it is irresistible. The Senate is not in a state of mind to offer any hope of its successful consideration by that body. Its control still lies in the hands of those politicians who are irreconcilably committed to the keeping of America out of the League. Since no practical step can be taken over senatorial opposition, further time must elapse before we can hope for definite action.

There will, of course, be an attempt to make the League an issue in the approaching elections, partly out of politics and partly out of sincerity, but at this time it does not seem that it could materially affect results. It is well enough to keep the issue alive, but over-emphasis of it at this time might be detrimental to the cause—a cause which from all present indications is certain to prevail in the end.

SOLOMON AND TUTANKHAMEN

That is a curiously impressive and affecting travesty on the pomp and might of royalty and the power and magnificence of national greatness which the American artist, Mr. Howard Carter, is producing with a gang of expert workmen in the historic Valley of the Kings at Luxor. After excavating through a palace of subterranean chambers and "a protective nest of golden shrines," Mr. Carter and his force have come to a huge, pink stone chest.

Americans, Europeans and Africans will look into that stone chest, the finest example of ancient Egyptian funeral art yet discovered, and they will see the mummy of Tutankhamen. The boy-king has reposed on the stone chest for thirty-two hundred years, surrounded by the rich trappings which glorified his people.

Through how many cycles of progress and retrogression has mankind passed in those thirty-two centuries? How many civilizations have flourished and decayed? How many nations have dominated the earth and then withered into oblivion? Races, peoples, chariots, marts, palaces, hotels, whole cities, whole countries, have been buried on top of one another by the vicissitudes of time.

The bundle of rags in the beautiful coffin of pink stone is of greater significance than the nest of golden shrines and the old treasures which garnished the vast tomb. The spirit of Solomon seems to stand beside Carter and exclaims—"Vanity of vanities: all is vanity." All is vanity except the speechless, brittle mummy.

ANNUAL PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

Dr. Allan Craig, of Chicago, associate director of the American College of Surgeons, advises us to investigate the state of our health at least once a year. It is fine advice. Each of us should go to a physician every twelve-months and let the doctor test all our bodily organs.

(Copyright, National Newspaper Service)

It should not, he said, be a "stick-your-tongue-out" examination, but a genuine physical investigation. We should find out whether we are in good condition, or not, and if we are not, the doctor will tell us what to get in shape again.

The annual examination is advanced as one of the principal features of preventive medicine. By it we should prevent illness or decline. The physician would discover unapparent symptoms of impending ailment, and we should be cured without becoming sick.

The yearly examination would not only safeguard our health, it would correct some of our eccentricities of mind and body. It would reveal to us some of our worst faults, which are attributable to health. Thousands of persons have medical examinations made annually or semi-annually.

Many will continue to fail or refuse. Why? Because of two fears. First, that the physician might find out that they are a little out of condition and order them to a course of discipline. Second, they are indifferent. They will not call the doctor; they will let him come to them.

Indications are that 1924 will be a hum dinger, except for those who make it a ho hum dinger.

POST HOC ERGO PROPTER HOC

The gibberish I use for a title means, they tell me, after this, therefore because of it, and according to this kind of reasoning the goop who sits over lumbago or a black eye after a series of hot mustard ear baths is ready to testify to the efficacy of hot mustard ear baths for all human ailments, deformities and conditions.

It's something that with chilling and the various diseases which masquerade under the convenient, nonconimittal and if necessary quickly changeable title of "cold."

With the onset of many of the diseases which purport to be "colds" until somebody finds out what really is the matter, chilliness or a chill is more or less characteristic. In the invasion or beginning of pneumonia, bronchitis, tonsillitis, diphtheria, meningitis, measles, influenza and, for example, chilliness or an actual shivering, chattering chill is a familiar early symptom. This symptom, so early in the illness, has been misunderstood. It has been misinterpreted as the cause of the illness. Of course we know that chilliness or a chill of this kind generally spells infection, invasion of the blood or the tissues, with virulent germs as in ordinary blood poisoning (septicemia) from an infected wound. Eliminate such chilliness and you haven't much left to rest the "cold" delusion on.

Experience and observation show that as a matter of fact the pneumonia which people so fearfully predict as the outcome of some exceptional degree of exposure to cold or wet almost never develops in the great majority of cases of pneumonia, in which the illness does happen to come shortly after some alleged exposure to cold or wet, the truth is that the individual suffered no particular discomfort from the alleged exposure and the exposure is rather a trumped up theory, a fudge in retrospect.

The minister who brought all this on mentioned in his letter, which I printed a while ago that he gets a headache, if he sits with his head in a draft. That's nothing. Numerous pathological persons will run at the nose something prodigious whenever they catch themselves in a little draft or out without their usual heavy clothes on. They, too, declare they "take cold," but they are not normal as I say, they're pathological, and when we come to examine such people we find some chronic neglected disease condition of the upper air passages or perhaps the peculiar state caused hyperesthetic rhinitis, which state I described here recently.

Normal individuals simply do not experience any untoward effects from such trifling exposure as sitting in a draft or getting their feet wet or changing to light clothing on a cold raw day. Normal persons need give themselves no anxiety at all about such "exposure," aside from the proper consideration of their own comfort.

For instance, if one finds it comfortable to leave off one's heavy underwear and put on no underwear to speak of in its place for a while no matter how cold it may be, why that is all there is about it, so far as hygiene is concerned. Similar sound sense should govern every one in such matters as wearing or not wearing rubbers, galoshes, overshoes, overcoats, mufflers, hats, light or heavy stockings, chest coverings and in the case of children, bare knees in winter time.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cold Showers

Are cold showers in the morning injurious to the heart?

I take them but have been told that they tend to weaken the heart.—H. L.

Answer—They are rather beneficial to the heart if you experience a pleasant reaction.

Chronic Nephritis

Please give the symptoms of lung tuberculosis and the symptoms of chronic Bright's disease.—Mrs. C. M.

Answer—I feel it would be unhealthful for readers if I were to suggest symptoms of diseases to them. If you will write me accompanying your request with stamped self-addressed envelope, I'll be glad to send you information about either lung tuberculosis or chronic Bright's disease, but there is practically nothing about symptoms and the information will not enable you to guess whether you have such disease.

60 Couples At Elk Leap Year Party

Women Do The "Inviting" For Pretty Dance In Elk Club Hall

More than 60 couples attended the formal dancing party given at Elk hall by the Elk Lodge on Friday evening. The party was a leap year affair and the women took the lead in getting dances, thus giving the men very little opportunity to "sit out." The party was one of the prettiest of the season.

The hall was decorated with floral effects with a jardiniere center piece of bright flowers in the middle of the floor. Music was furnished by Gib Horst's orchestra.

Since the dancing did not begin until 9 o'clock, the dancers expected to stay to dance until 1 o'clock, but at midnight the orchestra played the "farewell" waltz. Many couples hurried to the cloak rooms and got their wraps, only to be informed that the orchestra leader had announced that dancing would continue until 1 o'clock. Most of those who were ready to leave took their wraps back and stayed until the end of the party.

Lions Dancing Club Selects Date For Party

The Lions Dancing club will give its second party at Knight of Pythias hall at 8:15 Wednesday evening. Each of the members of the club which is made up of members of the Lions club and their wives, is entitled to bring another couple to the party.

Music will be furnished by the Valley Country club orchestra. If there is a large attendance at the party on Wednesday evening, the third party in the series will be held in Elk hall.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Walter Fox will lead the meeting of the Evangelical League of Christian Endeavor at 6:45 Sunday evening at Emmanuel Evangelical church. The topic will be "What and How Jesus Taught," and the discussion will be led by Harold Finger and Herman Brockhaus.

The Live Wire class of Emmanuel Evangelical Sunday school will hold its monthly meeting at 7:30 Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Wilma Buchholz, 722 Center st. The study of Mrs. Peabody's book, "Lives Worth Living," will be continued.

Olive Branch society of Mt. Olive Lutheran church planned a sleigh ride for Sunday afternoon at the regular meeting Friday night in the church parlors. Members who plan to go are to meet at the church at 2:30.

The church council of Trinity English Lutheran church will have its monthly meeting at 8 o'clock Monday night at the home of the pastor, the Rev. F. L. Schreckenberg, 1092 Front st. This is to be a business meeting.

A branch of the American Luther League probably will be formed in Appleton when members of the Lutheran churches meet at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Mt. Olive Lutheran church to organize. A speaker is expected to arrive to aid in organizing.

Miss Evan Engel was elected president of the Christian Endeavor society of First Reformed church at a meeting at the church Thursday evening. Other officers are: Vice president, Tillie Jahn; secretary, Evelyn Reinken; treasurer, Leah Klundt. Preparations were made for a Valentine party next Thursday night to which the Young Peoples society of the German Methodist church will be invited.

The official board of Methodist Episcopal church will meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the church parlors. This is to be a business meeting.

The Holy Name society, the Young Men society and the Boys society of St. Joseph church will approach communion at the 8 o'clock mass Sunday morning. The members are to meet at the parish hall at 7:45.

Christian mothers of St. Joseph church will meet in the church at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. Following this there will be a business meeting in St. Joseph hall.

Circle No. 7 of the Methodist Episcopal social union meets Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Graef, 974 Atlantic st. This is to be a business meeting.

Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor, showed pictures of the new church building and explained the various phases of the new structure at the L. B. club supper and program Friday night in the parlor of Methodist Episcopal church. Other features of the program were violin solos by Miss Jean Brigham and the story of her Alaskan trip by Miss Margaret Nicholson.

CARD PARTIES

The Womans Catholic Order of Foresters will give an open card party on the evening of Feb. 13 in Catholic home. The party is to be held after the regular meeting, probably about 8 o'clock. There will be tables for bridge, schafkopf and dice.

Follow the crowds to Pettibone's Shoe Rummage — Vermeulen Bldg.

Complete Plans For Bazaar At 4th Ward Church

Final arrangements have been made at the committee meeting which was held Friday evening for an elaborate bazaar which will be held Sunday afternoon in Sacred Heart school hall under the auspices of the Sacred Heart society.

The affair will begin at 2 o'clock and the public has been invited. Various "stunts" will be presented and a number of prizes will be offered. The Blackstone Serenaders will turn out music throughout the afternoon and evening.

Supper will be served between 4:30 and 6 o'clock, and a number of stands will be erected where refreshments will be served. Members of the Christian Mothers and of the Young Ladies sodality are assisting in the affair. Preparations are being made to serve at least 300 for supper.

Contests of various kinds have been planned for the children as well as adults, and prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Few More Days To See Sketches At Womans Club

awarded to Mrs. John Dresang and Mary Meyers.

Anita Willets Burnham's sketches, which have been on display at Appleton Womans club since her lecture here on Jan. 23, are to be sent back next Wednesday. The pictures on display are in plain wooden frames, but to show how they appear when properly "dressed up," one of the women who has purchased a picture is exhibiting it at the club rooms. The sketches include studies of European countries made when the artist visited there a few years ago.

SUFFERED SINCE YOUNG GIRL

Words Failed to Express Benefit Received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Texas.—"Words can not express how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Every month I would have cramps and headache, and I felt like I was freezing to death. I suffered in this way from the time I was a young girl, and all the doctors said was 'operation.' For months I had a tired, sleepy feeling all day, and when night would come I could not sleep. Our druggist recommended the Vegetable Compound to my husband and he bought four bottles. I have taken every one and think I have a right to praise your medicine." —Mrs. J. E. Holleman, 2214 E. Marshal st., Greenville, Texas.

Circle No. 7 of the Methodist Episcopal social union meets Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Graef, 974 Atlantic st. This is to be a business meeting.

Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor, showed pictures of the new church building and explained the various phases of the new structure at the L. B. club supper and program Friday night in the parlor of Methodist Episcopal church. Other features of the program were violin solos by Miss Jean Brigham and the story of her Alaskan trip by Miss Margaret Nicholson.

CARD PARTIES

The Womans Catholic Order of Foresters will give an open card party on the evening of Feb. 13 in Catholic home. The party is to be held after the regular meeting, probably about 8 o'clock. There will be tables for bridge, schafkopf and dice.

Pick Date For Annual Party Of P.O. Workers

Feb. 21, or the night before Washington's birthday, is the date agreed upon for holding the annual get-together social of employees of the Appleton postoffice and their families.

The event will again take place in Odd Fellow hall, according to plans made by the entertainment committee consisting of Silas Krueger, chairman, and Frank Schrumpf, George Welschutler, Louis Starke and Albert Schroth.

The program will begin with card playing. Table arrangements will be made for about 30 hands of schafkopf. Those who do not care to play cards will entertain themselves at dice. After these games a lunch will be served. Refreshments will be followed by dancing to music furnished by the newly organized postoffice orchestra.

COUNCIL ADOPTS PLANS FOR LEVEE ALONG WOLF RIVER

Part of Concrete Structure Will Be Undertaken By City Of New London

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WHIPS DEPERE IN INTERESTING GAME

Girls Team Loses To Visitors But Boys Score Easy Victory

New London—Definite action toward the construction of a concrete retaining wall along the north side of Wolf river between Shawano and Pearlst bridges, has at last been taken after more or less serious consideration for a number of years. At the meeting of the city council Wednesday evening that body voted to adopt the blueprints submitted by H. R. Albert of Green Bay, city engineer of New London. Between the wall and the rear of the buildings on North Water-st. there will be room for a wide driveway, leaving a space from 10 to 25 feet in width. The estimated cost is approximately $84 per linear foot. Only a part of the project will be attempted this year, and this portion probably will be the stretch between the wall in the rear of the Jennings building and the one fronting Taft park.

The public library will be open on Sunday afternoons during the months of February and March. E. N. Cofle will be in charge next Sunday afternoon.

D. E. Peabody, pastor of the First Congregational church at Appleton, will speak at the community meeting at the Congregational church Sunday evening. His subject will be "Woodrow Wilson" instead of the Bok peace plan, as previously planned. Slides showing views of the Dells of the Wisconsin river will be thrown on the screen. Special music will be presented by the choir.

Charles Kische sent a box containing 500 pairs of shoes this week to the needy in Germany. Mr. Kische has been conducting a fire sale to dispose of thousands of pairs of shoes slightly damaged by water and freezing. The New Years day fire, in spite of Monday's blizzard, the doors of the store had to be locked several times to keep out the crowds and allow standing room inside.

The fire department was called to the Ellison Station home on West Jawst early Friday morning to extinguish a chimney fire.

The date for the triangular interscholastic debate between the New London, Shawano and Shiocton high schools has been set for Feb. 20. New London's negative team will meet the Shiocton affirmatives at Shiocton. Shiocton's negative team will debate the Shawano affirmative team at Shawano, while New London people will have a chance to hear the debate between Shawano's negative team and the local affirmatives. The question under debate, furnished by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Debating League, is: Resolved, that congress shall enact a federal law embodying the essential provisions of the Huber unemployment bill, constitutionally conceded." The personnel of New London's teams is as follows: Affirmative, Lloyd Jost, Ellen Cochrane and George Rosentreter, with Carl Fellenz as alternate; negative, Arthur Krause, Ethel Steinraber and Patrick Cooney with Wilfred Cupp as alternate. George Hendricks, instructor in economics and forensics in New London high school is coaching the teams.

A local boy scout council is being formed to be composed of three members each from the Rotary club, the Lions club and the American Legion post. The local council will represent the National council in New London and will be in charge of the appointment of scoutmasters, examinations for first class scouts, granting of merit badges and other matters of importance to the boy scout troop.

Several of New London's business places are represented in the wholesale houses in Chicago and Milwaukee this week. H. B. Cristy and the Misses Irma Reuter, Amelia Ziemer and Gladys Williams are selecting spring and summer merchandise for the J. E. Cristy department store. Mrs. Myrtle Swift and Mrs. Emma Hopkins are buying supplies of spring military. Mrs. Swift, who has been displaying her stock on the balcony of Cristy's store since the fire on New Years Day, moved back into her former quarters in the Lyon building before leaving for Chicago. Mrs. Hopkins is planning the erection of a modern building to replace the one destroyed by the fire. She is still located in the Van-de-Ware department store.

The Rev. F. S. Dayton was called to Oshkosh Thursday morning by the death of his aged father, William Dayton. The late Mr. Dayton spent a year in New London at the F. S. Dayton home about six years ago. He was 84 years of age.

Miss Melda Pelzer, public librarian was highly commended by Miss Faire of the university library school at Madison on her annual visit to the New London public library this week. Miss Faire stated that she has passed many of Miss Pelzer's original ideas to other librarians in Wisconsin. She also praised Miss Pelzer's successful efforts to promote the practical service of the library in New London. Last Saturday was a record day in the circulation of books, 287 books being drawn out, 34 higher than the previous record.

The home economics class of the high school began Monday morning to serve hot lunches at noon to any pupils or teachers who desire that service.

Under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church, the Ripon College glee club is scheduled to sing in New London on March 22.

FARMERS DIG WAY TO MILK STATION

Six Teams Get First Load Of Milk Through To New London Condensery

Stephensville—I took a young army of farmers to move the milk supply from this locality to the Borden condensery at New London following the recent blizzard. Six teams and many shovels assisted P. H. Cummings in getting through Wednesday with his first load since the storm began. The roads were so badly drifted in places that new routes had to be laid out through the fields. Farmers along the line gave their assistance by shoveling the deepest snow from the roads adjoining their land.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Schrath and daughter Evelyn and George Schrath and family visited Miss Irene Komp at her home Sunday.

Mrs. Edward Schultz entertained the Ladies Aid society at her home Wednesday afternoon. The attendance was small because of the storm.

For the first time this winter William Harris, mail carrier on rural route No. 3 was unable to deliver mail to patrons Monday and Tuesday because of the storm. The only communication with the outside world at that time was by telephone.

John Schrath returned to his home at Appleton Wednesday after spending several days with relatives here.

William Voss is at St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton, taking treatment for blood poisoning in his hand.

Albert Giesen spent several days in Milwaukee on business.

I caught my breath sharply when the man said he would give me three thousand dollars apiece. I wondered if I had a right to sell them. I wanted to know just what their value. Surely she could not have known it, nor the person who sold them to her. Where in the world would this mystery end?

I decided to cable Alice immediately. I would not wait for a letter. In the meantime if I sold three of the jewels with one that was lost, I would have taken over two thousand dollars from someone who really owned them. Until I knew something about it, I was doing something dishonest to sell them."

Then there came to me little Marquise, the sign of my husband's face and I knew just the trouble he was in. I decided this once to take a leaf out of John's book, provide for the present and let the future take care of itself.

Silently I handed the stones to the broker and asked him to arrange the clasp again on the depicted string. "Shall I give you a check, my dear young lady?" he asked, looking at me rather peculiarly.

"I would rather have the money," I answered.

The man sent a boy out to a nearby bank and soon I had nine thousand dollars in my hand. I put the pearls and the money in my bag and was leaving hurriedly when the broker suggested, "If you will allow me to advise you, I would not carry those stones in that carelessly. Why don't you put them around your neck? You can let them drop down under your blouse." I took his advice and started for the station, and then realized that I was very hungry. I had nothing to eat all day. I went into a modest restaurant where, to my surprise, I found in one corner of the room very much engrossed in each other, Ruth Ellington and Walter Burke.

Ruth's consternation was quite as great as mine and yet I felt that in some odd way she was relieved for she came to my table quickly.

"I'm so glad to see you, Leslie dear," she said. "Are you going back home tonight? If so, may I go with you?"

Mr. Burke said nothing, but I knew he was very much annoyed when I announced "I'm going just as soon as I can get a little something to eat."

"Have you a stateroom?" he asked abruptly. He seemed to make the question answer something which Ruth had spoken to him before I came in.

"No, I was not sure I'd get my business done in time to go."

"I'll get you one." Without a glance at Ruth he walked out of the restaurant and left Ruth and me together.

Mister Wild Turkey flew up to the top in Dixie Land. He was so fat he couldn't fly very well, but anyway he got there and he sat looking around him at the world below and feeling very well satisfied with himself.

"Hello!" he gobbled as his sharp eyes made out two little figures climbing the hill toward him. "I'll have to be careful! Here comes two humans! But, mercy on us, they aren't much bigger than I am, so I needn't be afraid, I guess. Besides, they don't have any of those long iron sticks that exploded at one end and made me so nervous."

Nancy and Nick came quite near. "Hello, Mister Turkey, we've been looking for you," called Nick.

"That's what everybody says," answered Mister Turkey with a chuckle, "but I usually don't stay long enough to find out what it is they want me for. Some of my friends have stayed and I never saw them again. Well, young man, what is it?"

"The Fairy Queen sent us a letter to give to you," said Nick. "We just found it in the Dixie Land Post Office."

"You don't say so!" exclaimed Mrs. Turkey. "Why, I never got a letter in my life! Why, I'm so excited. Mister Turkey with a chuckle, "but I usually don't stay long enough to find out what it is they want me for. Some of my friends have stayed and I never saw them again. Well, young man, what is it?"

"It's a letter from the Fairy Queen," said Nick. "She wants you to come to her castle in the clouds. She says you're the most beautiful turkey in the world."

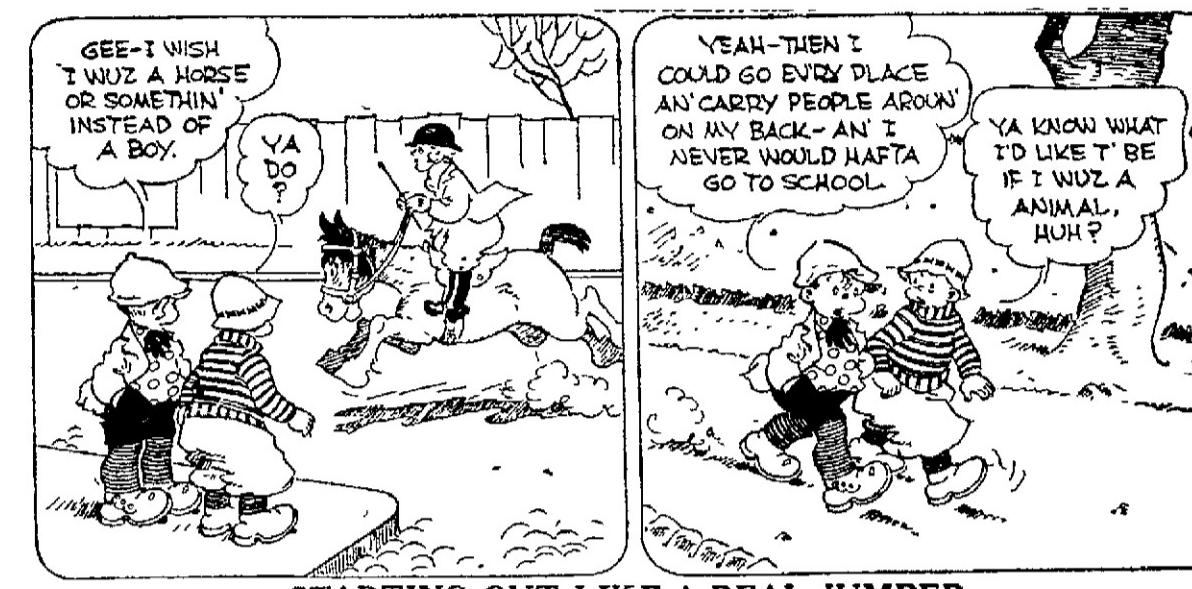

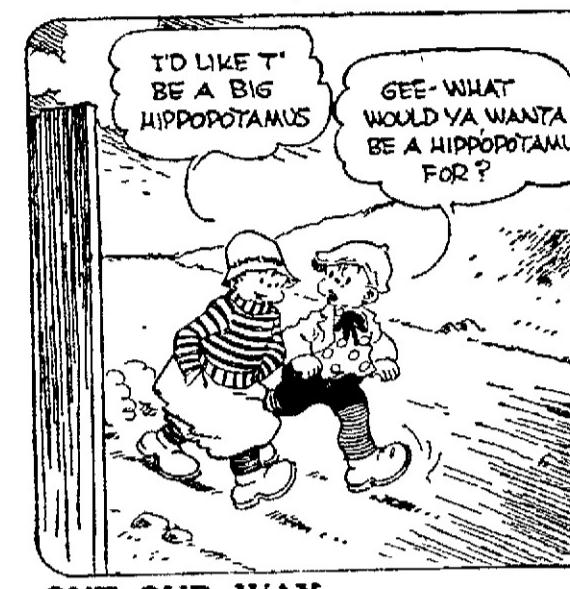

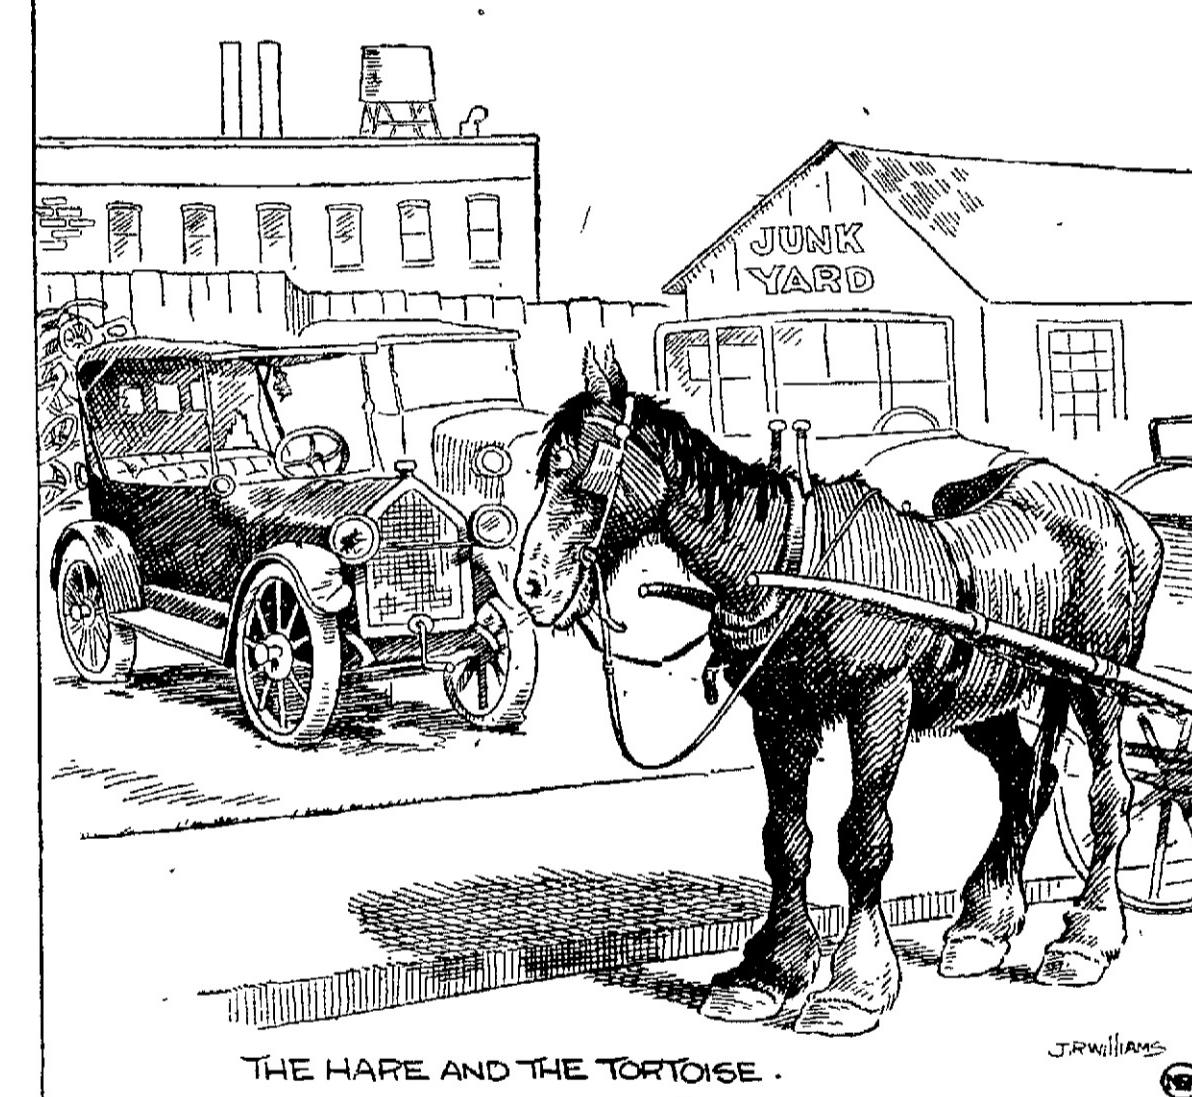

"I suppose you think it is queer that so many people in Dixie Land leave so much grain in their grain fields and even scatter bags of it here and there where you can get at it. But it isn't queer at all! They want you to get fat. The fatter the better. But if you don't eat, for awhile you'll get thin and you'll be far safer. If I were you I'd starve myself for a spell. ## RADIO SUBORDINATE TO WIRE LINES FOR LONG DISTANCE

Laying Of Submarine Cables Indicate Slight Regard For Wireless

BY ISRAEL KLEIN

Proof that long distance communication by means of radio is not yet considered seriously by important telephone authorities is presented by the laying of cables for long distance line communication in Europe.

An era is just beginning on that communication, reports C. H. Minor, commercial representative of a large electrical manufacturer, who has just arrived in this country. But this communication, Minor says, will be by wire. Radio isn't even considered.

"Engineers of the governments of Europe are beginning to hold meetings to consider ways and means of establishing long distance lines," declares Minor. "Much progress has been made in the last year. Efficient and easily available channels of spoken communication are to be realized."

Which shows that radio still is considered no factor so far as long distance communication is concerned.

Yet, only recently, David Sarnoff directed a long distance conversation between San Francisco and Iwaki radio station in Japan. In doing so, he talked from a radio station at Columbia, Mo., making the entire talk, with only one relay over a distance of 7000 miles.

Delivery of the question and answer by this method, covering a total of 14,000 miles, took only one minute and forty-five seconds. By direct communication, it would be a dash of a second.

Thus, while tests are being made with long distance radio communication, it is in conversation that is still being developed. Assured privacy of this kind is what makes this method still supreme.

When radio is assured of privacy, then will line communication lose its prestige.

Radio Experimenter Places "Aerial" In Ground

BY HAROLD R. MATSON
Washington — Dig a hole in your back yard and place your radio "aerial" in it if you would be up to date!

That is, of course granting that Dr. James Harris Rogers, famous in center, has proved his theory. Some time ago he started experimenting with underground antennae. Today Dr. Rogers, resuming his work after a short illness, freely predicts that underground transmission will supersede aerial transmission.

Dr. Rogers reveals that perfect communication was carried on with points 200 miles away, during experiments he conducted. Interference he declares, is practically eliminated.

difficulties of day reception are reduced to a minimum and the power required for transmission is considerably less than for aerial antennae.

One of Dr. Rogers' underground sets consists of a loop antenna let down into a metal-lined and metal covered well. He has practically abandoned his high strung aerial on the roof of his laboratory, night; hearing foreign stations on his sub-

EASIER BROADCASTING

Dr. Rogers believes underground transmission to be an important development in radio science, and predicts it will make possible the concentration of broadcasting at a group of powerful stations.

"These stations," he believes, "will be located at strategic points over the country. Reception will be clear and strong in every set, interference from so many different wave-lengths being eliminated. The stations will operate something like a telephone switch board, tuning in for the programs they desire to rebroadcast in their vicinity.

The tap switches are then set on the seventh tap beginning at the top of the primary of the vario couplers. Now turn on the filament of the tubes by using the rheostat until you hear it oscillate and if it does not oscillate, turn the condenser dial clockwise. If it does not produce a whistle or oscillation of the tube the wires probably have been misplaced and in a case like this, check up on the diagram and—if you have used the couplers mentioned—there should be no trouble providing the wiring has been done as shown. On the other hand if the tube oscillates and you hear a whistle try

BEST RESULT FROM STORAGE BATTERY

Dry Cells Wear Out Quickly And Don't Give Much Volume To Signals

By M. J. V. FOSE

Many readers of this page have asked for an opinion of the smaller or dry cell tubes as compared with the larger tubes that are used in connection with a six volt storage battery. I will try and answer some of these queries in this article.

Dry cell tubes are excellent for portable sets, in fact, that is what they were manufactured for and they are a boon to the camper, roomer, or "camper" who does not want to bother with the weight of a storage battery. However, they do not bring in the volume that the larger brothers do for simple reason that dry cells give out much sooner and the filament rheostat usually has to be turned on more and more until finally the little flame gives out entirely. You will notice this while holding a station for any length of time and the average life of a dry cell on a set is two to four weeks.

Putting two and two together, one is faced with the problem of buying new dry cells every time they give out and figuring their cost in a year, they buy more than paid for the price of a storage battery and yet they do not obtain the volume, the selectivity and the audibility that the user of a 6 volt battery secured who still has the battery for further use on his set while the user of dry cells has nothing a bunch of old worn out batteries to show for his expenditure.

TAKE GOOD CARE OF "A" BATTERIES FOR RESULTS

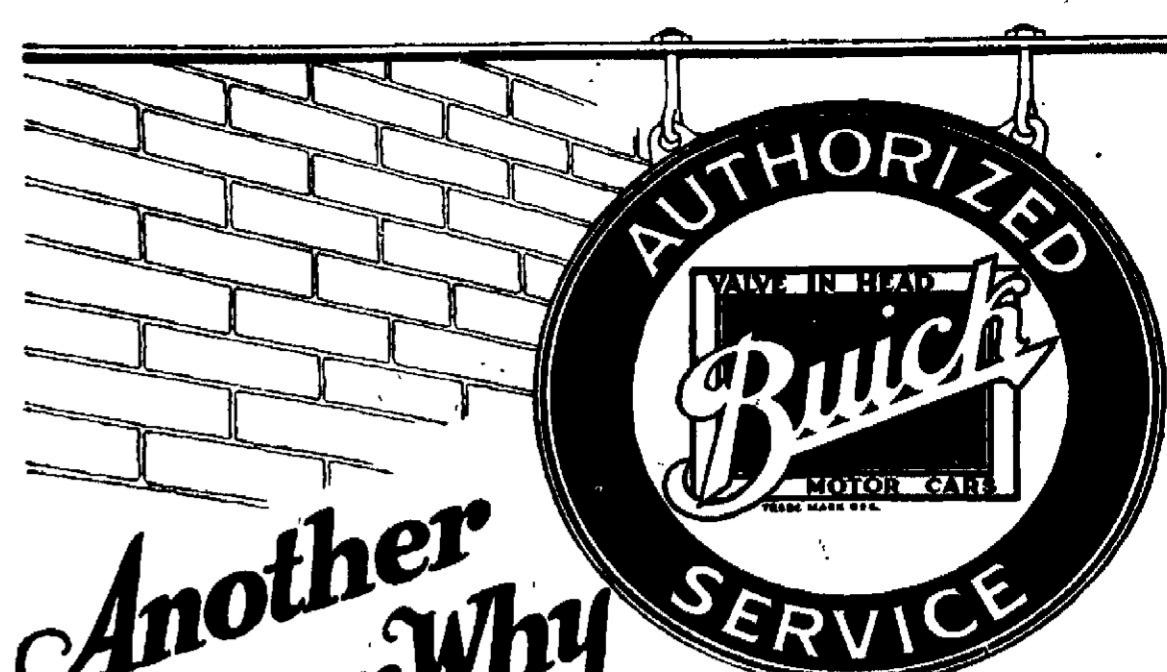

Here are a few suggestions for taking care of your "A" battery:

1. See that the connections are clean and tight, and it is advisable to scrape off the wire or terminal connections going out of the battery so that they are bright and will form a good contact.

2. See that there is no acid or water spilled upon the top of the battery which would cause voltage leakage between the cells. Keep the top of the battery dry.

3. Keep the plates covered with water at all times. The solution should come at least one quarter inch over the top of the plates. Use only distilled water.

THE NEWS FIRST REACHED APPLETON BY RADIO

WARREN G. HARDING

WOODROW WILSON

The first news of the end of the span of life of these two great Americans, was flashed to anxiously awaiting thousands, through the medium of the Radio.

Twice more—once in August and again last Sunday—was the ability of the Radio proven, the transmission of sound through ether waves, announcing the sorrowful events.

Quicker even than telegraph, which formerly was believed to be the best way to transmit news, a few moments after death, in every city of the United States and no doubt in some cities of foreign countries, the fact was announced. Think of it—from one broadcasting station, the announcement was picked up in a countless number of towns. Truly, marvelous strides have been made in the development of this marvel of the Twentieth Century.

LAWRENCE FRESHMEN HELP SWAMP CONCORDIA, 47 TO 16

Blue And White Buries
Lutheran Invaders In Steady Hail Of Goals

College Fresh Team Humbles
Fast Appleton High Seconds,
10 To 5, In Exciting Curtain
Raiser

Lawrence Friday night swamped Concordia, 47 to 16, in a basketball contest played on Armory C court here. The Blue made its first basket in the first few seconds of play and before five minutes had passed, piled up a total of seven points, while the invaders had not yet started. Coach A. C. Denney took advantage of the opportunity to try out several of his Fresh who became eligible on Feb. 1, and Helderman, Mills, Ashman and Kosbab did their stuff to perfection. Helderman and Ashman, former Appleton high school stars, acquitted themselves especially well and between them caged the ball nine times. At the end of the first half Lawrence was in the lead, 21 to 9, and although Concordia attempted to tighten its defense in the next period, the Blues continued to walk away for the rest of the game.

Morrison opened up the attack when he dropped the ball through the ring directly after the initial toss up, and Hubert followed with another short goal immediately thereafter. He missed his first free throw on Kretschmer's foul but made the second, and before the first five minutes were up, Morrison again caged the ball. Freiburger scored Concordia's first point on a free throw after he had been fouled by Morrison, and Kretschmer added two more when he dropped the ball in the ring for a field goal. At this point Helderman went in Zussman's place forward, and before the half ended made three pretty baskets, in addition to one each by Christopher, Morrison and Kotal. Meanwhile Brietzman had caged the ball twice and Zapt once for Concordia, and the half ended, 21 to 9.

INVADERS ARE SWAMPED

Ashman was substituted for Morrison at center during the first part of the second half, and made a field goal right off the reel. The Lawrentians drove through the invaders' defense with little difficulty and for the rest of the period ran rings around them. After Helderman, Hubert, Kotal and Ashman each caged the ball once more, Kretschmer made one free throw but missed the next two, while Hubert made two on Kretschmer's foul. Freiburger took a long chance and shot the sphere through the iron from the center of the floor twice in succession, and Zapt followed suit. Thereafter Concordia stopped scoring while Ashman and Zussman each caged the ball twice. Helderman and Morrison once, and Hubert made two free throws.

Concordia was game throughout in spite of being outweighed considerably, and put up a good fight. The Blues were too strong for them and outplayed the invaders in every department. At no time was the Lawrence team in danger, and for the most part the invaders were forced to take long shots as they were unable to get within comfortable striking distance of the basket.

The lineups: Concordia—Freiburger, RF; Brietzman, LF; Kretschmer, C; C. Zapt, RG; Dickey, LG.

Lawrence—Hubert, RF; Zussman, LF; Morrison, C; Kotal, RG; Christopher, LG.

Substitutions—Zapt for Brietzman, Krenke for Zapt, Pickelman for Krenke, Mills for Hubert, Helderman for Zussman, Collings for Mills, Ashman for Morrison, Hubert for Collings, Kosbab for Kotal, Zussman for Hubert.

HIGH SECONDS LOSE

In the curtain raiser, Lawrence Freshman team outshot the Appleton High school seconds, 10 to 5. The Seconds got under the basket oftener than the Fresh, but were unable to find the ring despite a host of good chances. The Lawrentians outweighed their rivals by many pounds to the man and dragged them all over the floor.

During the first half the only points scored were made on free throws, and the game stood 3 to 1 in favor of the collegians. Frazer was fouled by Brise and after missing his first chance, dropped the ball in the loop for one point in the first quarter. The players stuck to their opponents like burrs, and although the ball was under one basket or the other frequently, no one was able to get an open shot. The men of both sides attempted several long shots, but without success.

In the second period Brise, made two free throws on Bowly's foul, and Feldhausen caged another on Packard's holding.

FRESH FORGE AHEAD

Both teams made a decided spurt in the third quarter. Frazer dribbled the length of the floor and dropped the ball through the circle from under the basket after Kubitz had made a long shot from beyond the center of the floor and Bowley had caged one from nearby. Bowley and Frazer followed with a free throw apiece. Feldhausen increased the Fresh lead when he broke through for another field goal, and Brise made one of his two free throws just as the whistle blew for the end of the third period.

In the final quarter neither team was able to score. The High Schoolers fought desperately, and despite the advantage of weight held by the Fresh, the latter had all they could do to hold their own.

The lineups: Lawrence Freshman—Clark, RF; Nedway, LF; Dickey, C; Feldhausen, RG; Brise, LG.

Appleton High Seconds—Packard, RF; Frazer, LF; Stammer, C; Bowley, RG; Haase, LG.

Substitutions—Kubitz for Nedway, Counselor for Kubitz, Diefendorff for Packard, Kaufman for Stammer.

EQUITY PAYS OUT
$7,747 FOR PRODUCE

Farmers Save Money By Joint Buying—Local Will Meet On Friday

Greenville — Cooperative buying among members of Greenville Equity local amounted to $7,747.50 during the last year and saved the farmers considerable money, especially on commodities that were obtained in carload lots.

The produce manager's report shows these purchases for the members: One car of salt, $329.50; two cars molasses for feeding, $1,425.47; one car of oil meal, $1,455; tour cars bran, $2,947.50; one car middlings, $541.75; two cars coal, $825.32; thirty bushels soy beans, $186.

The next meeting of the local will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at Probst hall. All meetings will be held in the afternoon until the weather improves.

Considerable difficulty was experienced by the Chicago and Northwestern railway in opening the portion of the line passing through the line having most of Greenville station. A snowplow with two engines tried to force its way through about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon but became stalled there. Another engine was sent from Clintonville, and with the assistance of 30 shovels extricated the plow in the evening. Farmers were unable to deliver their milk to the factories until much shoveling had been done on the roads.

Greenville taxpayers have been given until March 1, 1924 to pay their taxes on consent of the town board and Lucius Collier, treasurer.

CITY CREW STARTS
OPENING STREET TO
WINNEBAGO-CO LINE

Bus Company Shovels Out Drifts From Menasha To Gmeiner Corners

Street department workers expected to open up Foster st for traffic Saturday afternoon and put an end to the complaints made by residents of that section because a roadway had not been prepared for traffic. It was feared, however, that the snowstorm in progress in the afternoon might hamper the work.

Residents of that street have had irregular mail service and have complained of inconvenience because the roadway has been blocked with deep drifts since Monday.

R. M. Connell, superintendent of the street department, declares that Saturday was the first opportunity the city crews have had to open up Foster st. They have centered their efforts on places where the snow was so deep it was impossible to deliver fuel, groceries and milk. Winnebago co. had done nothing to open up highway 15 beyond the city limits, and there was no demand, therefore, for a road for automobile traffic. This work therefore was deferred until the most urgent needs were met.

Motorbuses were expected to resume operation Saturday night providing the new snowfall was not too heavy, according to A. C. Homan, proprietor of T.M. Transportation Co. The Appleton-Menasha co. has been opened at noon from Menasha to Gmeiner corners and the drifts from there to this city were not deep and it would require only a few hours to make the road suitable for bus traffic he believed. Resumption of service depended also on the progress made in opening of Foster st.

POSTOFFICE PUTS BAN ON OIL FIRMS

Mail Addressed To Companies Named In Fraud Orders Will Be Returned

Speculation in oil is a much discussed subject these days of the investigation of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve scandal. A number of fraud orders issued by the government against a number of oil companies may stimulate the discussion. When a fraud order is issued against any corporation or individual, no mail will be accepted by the post offices for that destination. If a letter is sent from Appleton to any of the individuals mentioned below, it will be returned to the sender if his name appears on the envelope, and if not the letter will be forwarded to the dead letter office.

Fraud orders have been issued against the following: Blue Bird Oil corporation, Big Gusher Oil company, Butler-Perryman interests, Houston Oil & Refining company, International Oil Association, First National Oil company, Turnbow Oil corporation, Interstate Oil & Refining company, Hoffman Oil and Refining company, National Oil & Refining company, Marc Owen's Oil company, Postal Oil association, Union National Oil company, Ranger-Comanche Oil company, Henry H. Hoffman, president Butler A. Perryman, president Andrew Williams, J. A. Williams, Higgins-Mexia Oil company, Texas Stock Exchange, and others.

LEGION PREPARES
MEMORIAL SERVICE TO HONOR WILSON

Attorney P. H. Martin Will Deliver Eulogy At Big Public Meeting

Preparations were started Friday evening for an elaborate meeting in Lawrence Memorial chapel next Wednesday evening, under auspices of Onay Johnston post of the American Legion, to honor the memory of Woodrow Wilson, war president. Full military honors will be paid and the eulogy is to be delivered by Attorney P. H. Martin, Green Bay, one of the most prominent speakers in the state.

This meeting will be open to the public and no admission will be charged. The program is to consist of music, reading of Wilson's Flag day address by Henry J. Pettigrew former commander of Onay Johnston post, and the eulogy by Mr. Martin. It is expected that several hundred World War veterans will appear in uniform. The veterans are to march in a body from Elk's Club to the chapel.

Plans for the memorial meeting were discussed immediately after Mr. Wilson's death but arrangements were not completed until a strong speaker could be obtained. Mr. Martin is one of the most prominent Democrats in the state and a firm believer in Mr. Wilson.

LITTLE HOPE FOR NEW STREET NAMES

Informal Meeting Of Council Reveals Disagreement On Plans

Little encouragement was held forth for a practical system of street naming at the formal meeting of the common council in the city hall Friday evening. The meeting was the second of a series to discuss plans submitted by the street and bridge committee and by Alderman George T. Richard.

Alderman Richard, who a year ago advocated a radical plan of renaming every street in the city now proposes a plan that is milder than that suggested by the street committee. The committee originally proposed eliminating a number of street names on streets now bearing two or more names, such as Park Ave and Bateson st., also Eldorado and Harris st.

Neuritis the Nerve-
Wrecker

Those who have experienced the agony of a well developed case of neuritis know its baneful influence upon the entire nervous system. Mans suffers tortured in mind and body and driven to despair by the ravages of this insidious disease, have finally sought relief through self-destruction.

The first indication of neuritis is usually a sharp cutting pain in the shoulder, neck, forearm, thigh or leg, sometimes accompanied by soreness in the muscles, stiffness in the joints or numbness in the hands or feet.

If you suffer from neuritis, don't experiment! Take Epsom Neuritis Tablets treatment that has proven its merit in hundreds of stubborn cases endorsed by many leading physicians. Guaranteed to be free from narcotics and coal tar products. Price $1.00. Sold in Appleton by Voigt Drug Store and all other leading druggists Boericke & Runyon Co., Mrs. San Francisco
